

The relationship between the geometry of normal faults and that of .